Coroner's Jury Blames Driver Leukemia Kills Young F For Fatal Crash That Caused Death Of Mrs. J. B. Zimmerman he had been a patient for the past week. Death was caused by acute

A coroner's jury Monday afternoon, investigating the death of Mrs. Plan Hat Shows At John B. Zimmerman, late of Hanover street, found that her death was caused by injuries received in an auto accident and that the crash was caused by the failure of one of the drivers, Lawrence A. DiCenso, of Auburn, N. Y., to keep his car under control under the slippery condition of the road at the time.

The inquest was conducted by Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, at the court house Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Zimmerman was critically injured June 3 when DiCenso's auto crashed into a car driven by her son-in-law, Harry E. Scott, Hanover street, as it was proceeding toward Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road near the Panorama Inn.

She died June 21 at the Warner hospital from a pulmonary embolism and heart trouble. The coroner's jury declared that the embolism and aggravated heart condition were caused by the injuries she received in the auto smash-up.

Suffered Numerous Injuries Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Warner hospital surgeon, told the jury that Mrs. Zimmerman suffered extreme shock, a severe contusion of the left side of the abdomen and body, a suptured spleen, contusions of the left forearm, fractured ribs of the left side, leg injuries and various contusions and abrasions. Dr. Philip Zulick, of Littlestown, who performed the autopsy, said the immediate cause of death was a elot of blood that entered the lungs. Dr. Wolff had previously testified that the clot "probably came from the injuries to the legs."

Harry Scott told the jury he was driving about 30 miles an hour up the incline at Panorama Inn when he saw a car pull out from an approaching line of traffic. The car pulled back into its own lane again, he added, and "the next thing I knew the car skidded out from behind another car and struck us." Says Car Skidded

Traffic Death Toll Mounting

Chicago, July 31 (AP)-The nation's traffic death toll for 1951 may reach 37,800, the fourth highest in history, the National Safety Council warns.

In the first six months this year the council reported 16,320 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, eight per cent higher than for the same period in 1950.

The June total of 3,080 was 18 per cent over June, 1950. It was the biggest increase for any month since July, 1946, and the second highest June total on record. The council said heavier travel was responsible for much of the heavier death toll.

DiCenso said that he had been following a line of traffic from Gettysburg and estimated that he was traveling about 30 to 35 miles an hour during a heavy downpour of rain. He said that the car ahead pulled out and then dropped back. He said that he then stepped on his brakes to slow down because the car or irregular ahead had slowed. DiCenso, a secretary for Congressman John Tabor, of New York, said his car then skidded several times while he attempted to keep it in his own lane. "On the last skid the car must Chambersburg St., Baltzley and have gone over into the other lane and hit the Scott car," DiCenso added, "but I don't remember the crash or remember seeing the Scott car." DiCenso was knocked unconscious in the crash.
